Frontier Golf Achieves Certified Builder Member Status in GCBAA

Jones Mills, PA – Frontier Golf is proud to have recently become a Certified Builder Member of the Golf Course Builders Association of America (GCBAA). We have earned this prestigious distinction within the association, which we have been a member of for 11 years as a Builder Member. The Certified Builder Member category is the highest category of membership within the association and is reserved for golf course contractors that deliver superior service and craftsmanship to the golf industry.

The GCBAA established the designation Certified Golf Course Builder in 1992 as part of the Professional Certification Program. To earn this designation, a golf course construction company must complete an application, pass an examination and meet a variety of requirements set forth by the association. Certification is an ongoing process, and builders are re-certified annually.

We are proud of our upgraded status within the GCBAA and look forward to continuing to serve our clients with the same excellence and award-winning attention to detail that has become synonymous with Frontier Golf.

"It is an honor to achieve Certified Builder Member status within the GCBAA, which is a great organization and we look forward to continuing to represent it, now as a Certified Builder Member. "
